OBJECTIVE

I Devavrat Kulkarni, a passionate photographer and filmmaker with an extensive freelancing experience in digital photography and a penchant of creating magical photographs in natural lighting. I am a versatile photographer molded by diverse experience in different genres of photography such as advertising, fashion, wildlife, travel, etc. Being a photographer, whatever I capture is a confession and struggle to understand myself and this world in which live. I always look out to expand my connections by traveling and making art with passionate people.
