Teachers should take classes regularly and work with commitment to make sure everyone participating in class There are lot of things that I think must be changed first problem is there is not lecture in consecutive way one lecture happened at 8 an then one happened at 11 there is lot of gap in between 2 lectures so student felt free and they don't join next class there is only one thing is responsible for that is ridiculous time table of lecture overall performance off teacher is neutral not happy with lectures time and I don't think techers have that much devotion to students that much needed
